

Weekly CES Friday Update - August 30/2024 / Ed #1

Note from the Principal

It has been a real pleasure to have met most everyone at the "Meet the Teacher" earlier this week. Please remember that my door is always open - I value your opinions, and want to know about any concerns. Communication is KEY !!!

CES has had a great start up, students have been cooperative and very helpful, following school rules and being respectful. Thank you to the students for making such great choices.

Our student numbers are very close to projections. We are still finalizing our numbers as some students are not attending until after the September long weekend. We have a few pressure points - as all schools do, and will do our best to address them.

Wasp season is here, and they seem to be everywhere. We have had the playground and entrances looked at and any nests removed. Unfortunately it seems like despite our best efforts that several students have been stung.

Reminder; that the best source of classroom information is through your child's teacher.
